PRESERVE CREDIT UNIONS AND ALL THE WAYS YOU BENEFIT

Our credit union pays every tax banks pay except one: the corporate income tax. And that's because all credit unions are not-for-profit cooperatives that are owned by their members -- consumers like you. As not-for-profits, credit unions return what they earn to their members in the forms of lower rates on loans, higher returns on savings and lower and/or fewer fees. But you might lose ALL of the benefits you enjoy at Catholic Family unless Congress hears loud and clear from members like you that you want us protected as part of federal tax reforms.

In fact, for every $1 of their tax exemption, credit unions return well over $10 to consumers in better rates and lower fees. That's a solid investment in our communities.

You might say taxing credit unions is really a tax on 96 million credit union members. If the savings and service you enjoy at Catholic Family Federal Credit Union is important to you, please take a moment to ask Congress to preserve credit unions' tax status as part of tax reforms occurring now. Without that, you could lose the many benefits you enjoy.
